

Quarterly water report

Use at the depot fell in the second quarter after the new taps went in, and rose again over the summer. The figures are read from the main meter each month.

